UNION AND AMERICAN

J. O. GRIFFITH & CO. finily 85; Semi-Weekly 84; Weekly 82-TRURSDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1868. Corros commanded the highest price of the season in their market yesterday. GEN. ROUSSEAU has sent an officer to investigate the troubles in Arkansas.

Some interesting speculations in regard to the influence which cotton and other Southern crops exert in making money dear at New York, will be found in our financial column this morning.

A yero of the Southern States militla bill has been expected from the President immediately on the assembling of Congress, but it is now stated that there is no cause for such expectation as the President has not received notice of the passage of such a bill.

Our first page this morning contains the entire article over the sig- realization. If he attempts-as he nature of " Pacolet" in the Wash- will-to realize this one, he will ington Express, relative to the break, by having to break with his proposition to consent to peaceful party. Look, for instance : an exdismemberment of the Union in 1861 by Mr. Lincoln and his cabinet, to which editorial allusion was poverishes and antagonizes Morgan, made a few days ago.

It is customary for the heads departments, Senators and Repre sentatives, officers of the army and navy, and foreign ministers to call on the President on new year's day. In connection with this custom, is noticed that Gen. Grant a few days ago very suddenly and unexpectedly determined to spend that day in Philadelphia: Whether "a little unpleasantness" between the President and the General, in which the former proved by his cabinet that the latter had violated a prom ise deliberately made, had anything to do with this sudden "change of base," is of course purely a matter of conjecture; but it is stated on Radical authority that the General bas had nothing to do with the President since the close of the famous correspondence touching the surrender of the War Department to Mr. Stanton.

The New York Tribune Prejoices the organization. claiming that treason is a crime, and traitors must be punish d. when Lincoln's murder had set the advance. country wild for vengeance, now fathers the most sweeping amnesty ever pronounced by man." The Tribune confesses that it "seldom, of late, finds a decent excuse for praising Andrew Johnson;" but it "thanks him for putting an end, even thus tardily, to the swindling legal farce, enacted every few months, under the deceitful title of 'trial of Jeff. Davis;' a swindle by which nobody is duped-a farce at which nobody thinks of laughing." The Tribune candidly confesses a doubt whether "it was ever possible to convict Davis of treason in a eivil court.

GRANT'S cabinet continues to bother the politicians of the Radical persuasion. There are probably quite a number who are expecting to be called, but are destined to be disappointed. The Washington Star of the 28th inst. has a long article on the subject, in which expresses the opinion that Wade will have the Interior Department Bontwell, the Treasury Depart ment: Schofield, the War Depart ment: that the Navy Department lies between Hamlin, Griswold, and Gen. Hawley; and that Thomas C. Durant, of Louisiana, bas as good a show as anybody for the Attorney Generalship. If Wilson, of Iowa, gets the Senatorship from that State, it thinks Washburne going to France, and that Motle will get the State Department Boutwell is left out of the Treasury It is not easy to settle on any o for the Postoffiec. Senator Mort seems anxious on the subject, a has caused it to be autrounced that be will not, under any circumstar ces, take a place in the cabinet; the he prefers to remain in the Senate and, furthermore, is in such a physical condition that he could not d the work of a Cabinet Minister.
